What It Is
How It Works

This book is for informational purposes. Take the time to read or watch the reference material linked to or referred to in this book.

This book solely represents the author's opinion and research. It is not to be considered a complete expose of the methods and means by which Islam operates and is spread throughout the world today.

You are able to understand the world more clearly when you study a subject and read broadly to ensure your understanding is complete. Mainstream media in many western countries is owned and controlled by a very narrow group of large and powerful companies controlled by a small group of people. In the United States six large corporations own over 90% of all media. You get a very narrow and oftentimes erroneous understanding of world events from watching or listening to those controlled sources. In Europe, freedom of thought and expression have been curtailed and severely limited. In Europe today if you say or write the wrong thoughts you can be punished or arrested. European western civilization is slowly falling. Freedom and liberty are being eroded away.

Try not to be one of the "sheeple" in life. Read from a variety of sources and think about what you read and see. When you see censorship and attacks on those who express opinions not approved by the powerful elite that is a sign that truth is being hidden or suppressed. The powerful elite use censorship and threats and harm to maintain power and control. Truth is buried or hidden in those times.

You have free will. Use it. Think for yourself.

"Don't be afraid, for I am with you. Don't be discouraged, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you." ~ Isaiah 41:10

Introduction

This book provides an introduction to Islam. It is written for the non-Muslim, be that reader a political conservative, a political liberal, a Christian, a Jew, an agnostic or a non-religious person. This book is for those readers from a western culture such as the United States, Canada, Europe, South America, Australia or New Zealand. This book explains what Islam is and how it works. The book is written in a style to make it easy for all to understand.

You need to understand what Islam is and represents. Islam is a complete way of life and a complete law for mankind on Earth. That is Islam. It is a very powerful political ideology and cultural doctrine. A Muslim is a follower of Islam.

Followers of a political ideology and cultural doctrine will often dress to show their political identity or cultural affiliation. They wear their uniform, in a manner. Historically, followers of a particular political ideology or cultural doctrine might wear arm bands or head wear, or clothes of a particular color or design to show their political or cultural affiliation. Think about the uniforms of the German Nazi's or the KKK in the United States. The uniforms of political and cultural affiliation vary. You often will see people wearing their uniforms that identify them as followers of a particular political ideology or cultural doctrine.

Islam is a complete way of life. It is a complete political ideology, law and social doctrine. An ideology is a system of ideas that form the basis of economic or political policy. A doctrine is a set of beliefs held and taught by a group. Islam is a complete political ideology, cultural doctrine and law. You need to understand that about Islam. It is a complete law, a complete way of life. A Muslim submits to that political ideology and cultural doctrine.

Islam is vastly more than a narrow concept of a religious group or religious practice. Islam is a complete social, legal, political and cultural way of life. There is no higher law or permissible way of life than that dictated by Islam. That is very important to understand. Muslims submit to a political ideology and cultural doctrine that describes a complete belief system and way of life.

As a complete way of life Islam is not just something you do for a few hours on a Sunday morning and then go about your life living under some other higher set of laws and rules that are not in accord with Islam. There is no higher law than Islam. The US Constitution is not in accord with Islamic doctrine. In fact, the freedoms and liberties granted by the US Constitution often stand in direct contrast to Islamic teachings and thought. A Muslim cannot embrace the US Constitution as the right supreme law and guiding doctrine. Only the law of Islam is seen as proper: Sharia Law.

Islam is complete as a cultural doctrine, political ideology, legal system and guide to live every moment. Western law and cultural practice are often not in accord with Islam. The freedoms and liberties that are foundational to many western cultures stand in direct opposition to Islamic law and cultural doctrine. Deep conflicts exist between Islam and western cultural practices and beliefs.

You need to understand what it means to submit to Islam and to follow that calling. Each member of the body of Islam – the Ummah - is called to prayer and submission five times a day, every day.

The act of submission to Islam five times a day every day is quite powerful psychologically. Submission and obedience to the ideology and doctrine of Islam are drilled into the heart and mind of each Muslim. The Islamic call to submission five times a day, every day, is a very effective method to dominate the hearts and minds of the followers of Islam.

Think about the effect of reciting words of belief and submission to a doctrine five times a day, every day. That is very powerful. Islam exerts a very strong control over its followers. Following the political ideology and cultural doctrine of Islam is deeply ingrained in each Muslim and reinforced five times a day, each day. You need to understand what that political ideology and cultural doctrine are. We will show that to you in this book.

The call to prayer and submission five times a day is quite powerful. People are profoundly affected by that act. Islamic political ideology is complete and strongly compelling.

There was an experiment performed in the early 1960's on a group of people who were directed to administer electric shocks to a stranger based upon directions from a person seen to be rightly in authority. These everyday people did indeed follow the directions of the perceived person of authority and administered increasingly severe electric shocks to strangers even though they could hear the grunts and moans of pain emanating from those strangers. 65% of people would follow directions and administer ever more painful electrical shocks to strangers as directed by the person of authority. That is the Milgram experiment. You can learn more about it here: The Milgram Experiment The point of this is to help you understand that most people will do things to other human beings that they know are quite painful and damaging when directed to do so by someone they perceive to be rightly in a position of authority. That is an important psychological characteristic of most human beings. That characteristic can be exploited. Submission to Islam is complete. It is reinforced five times a day. The human characteristic to submit to perceived authority is exploited strongly by Islamic political ideology and cultural doctrine and practice. It is one characteristic of human populations that is used to hold Islam together and to spread Islam throughout the world regardless of the pain, suffering and death it invokes. Keep that in mind as you read on.

“No matter what anybody tells you, words and ideas can change the world.” – John Keating.

It is important for you to understand what the words and ideas of Islam are. Islam comes with and is a detailed and compelling political ideology and cultural doctrine. Islam describes a complete way of life. Islam stands in direct opposition to many of the freedoms and liberties embraced by the US Constitution and other western cultural value systems and laws. You will often read that Muslim communities call for Sharia law and Sharia courts as they grow in population inside a non-Muslim country. That is because Islam is a complete law and a complete way of life that often stands in conflict with the freedoms, liberties and laws of western cultures.

Islam is a powerful and complete political ideology. To submit to Islam is to submit to that political ideology.

This book describes the beliefs and callings of Islam in clear language to make it easy for you to understand what Islam is all about and how it works. Many people and cultures of all races and ethnicities have fallen before Islam.

To call Islam a religion is much too narrow. Islam is vastly more than that. Islam is a cultural doctrine and political ideology. Islam is a way of life. Imagine the most powerful and all-encompassing political party and doctrine you can... Islam is that and more. Islam is not a narrow religious practice separate from the law and culture of the land. Islam is a complete law and cultural doctrine. Islam is a complete way of life. Islam is All.

To submit to Islam is to submit to a dominating political ideology. There is no higher power, no other law, no other political system higher than Islam. Islam is All. You need to understand what Islam calls upon all members of the body of Islam to do.

If you are not of the body of Islam – the Ummah - you are seen as impure and unholy, and viewed as a lesser being by members of the body of Islam and by the doctrine of Islam. Many Muslims are taught in their mosques that the Christian and Jew are less than animals and are a lower life form. The words of the Koran are quite harsh in describing the non-believer. This book will describe the teachings and callings of Islam. Imagine what a person will do or tolerate being done to others who they are taught to see as being no better than animals.

There are members of political parties in the United States who feel very strongly about their political ideology and beliefs. Often, they will shun their fellow countrymen who do not share their political ideology or body of belief. Neither the Republican Party, the Democratic Party, the Green Party or the Libertarian Party in the United States follows a doctrine that calls on members of their body to “harass and beleaguer” and to “kill and subdue” those who do not follow their political ideology and beliefs. Such a calling would create deep division within a nation and society and could bring about civil war. Such an explicit call to violence, intimidation and mayhem would be seen as criminal and reprehensible. Rightly so, such a calling is criminal and reprehensible. Keep that in mind as you read on. Islam calls all members of its body to war against the non-believer. Islam
